

FAMILY LAW INFORMATION CENTER DISCLOSURE

The Family Law Information Center is available to help both parents and other parties who are low income and have questions about family law issues and how to proceed with a legal action regarding a family law matter. The Family Law Information Center can help you in preparing your own forms and can give you general information. The Family Law Information Center staff cannot go with you to court.

The attorney at the Family Law Information Center IS NOT YOUR LAWYER, but is a neutral person who does not represent any parent or party. There is no attorney-client relationship between you and any person at the Family Law Information Center.

The Family Law Information Center may provide information and services to the other party in your case.

Communications between you and the Family Law Information Center staff are not confidential. You should consult with your own attorney if you want personalized advice or strategy, to have a confidential conversation, or to be represented by an attorney in court.

The Family Law Information Center is not responsible for the outcome of your case.
